DETAILED ACTION

This application is a 371 (national stage application) of PCT/EP04/052474.

Claims 1-19 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

For Group I election, EACH of the following species elections are required:

a) Core compound with multiple R groups: Each compound species of formula (I) recited by claims 1-19;

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Specifically, as to claims 1-19, Applicant is required to define each of R^1 - R^n , a, b, c and any additional variables as required for a particular species (a species for example is methyl, NOT alkyl). As to claims 1-19, Applicant is required to elect a single compound species from the compound structures, tautomers thereof, and pharmaceutically acceptable salts, and hydrates thereof that are recited. Upon Applicant's election of species, the result must provide a single chemical species. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added.

An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: claims 2-19 as to Group I. The following claim(s) are generic: claim 1 as to Group I.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

a) Each chemical species is a distinct chemical which lacks a special technical feature in view of Hendi et. al (EP 0719842A2) (pages 4-5, beginning from paragraph 5 of page 4). The patent application of Hendi et. al. was made available through the International Search Report document provided with the current application. Hendi et. al. discloses a general formula of a 1, 4-diketo-2, 5-dihydro-3, 6-diaryl-pyrrolo-[3, 4-c] pyrrole (DPP) pigment, which is shared in formula (I) of the instant generic claim 1. As the instant formulation is not a new contribution over Hendi et. al., the instant claims do not possess a special technical feature, as stated by PCT Rule 13.2. Therefore, as the special technical feature component is not met, the claims are not linked as to form a single inventive concept according to Rule 13.1, and unity of invention is not present.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.
